

Elflein Spedition & Transport wins Eco Performance Award

Sustainability strategy implemented at all levels of the company impresses panel of experts

Hannover/Ratingen, 26 September 2014. The winner of the Eco Performance Award 2014 is Elflein Spedition & Transport GmbH, a company from Bamberg in Bavaria. With this award, DKV Euro Service and its Premium Partners Knorr-Bremse und PTV Group for the seventh time recognise transport and logistics companies who successfully reconcile economic, ecological and social objectives. Following a thorough review by the high-profile panel of experts, Elflein was presented with the award on the eve of the IAA Nutzfahrzeuge trade fair at the Expowal in Hannover. The company impressed the panel of experts headed by Prof. Dr. Wolfgang Stölzle from the University of St.Gallen with its sustainability strategy that has been implemented throughout the company. "With the establishment of fleet innovations, the use of alternative drives and energy sources, advanced education and training programmes and charitable and social commitments the company excels in all three categories of the Eco Performance Award", says Prof. Dr. Wolfgang Stölzle.

With the presentation of the Eco Performance Award 2014 the new application period for the Eco Performance Award 2015 begins. Interested parties can now request their application documents at www.eco-performance-award.com. The submission deadline is 31 January 2015.
